IN MEMORIAM

In Miss Mary Louise Strong, Illinois College had a teacher of unusual talent and skill; her invariable good humor and thorough knowledge not only of her subject but of her students' difficulties gained the respect of all who studied the German language and literature under her guidance.

Miss Strong took a real, personal interest in every one of her students throughout her many years at Illinois College. She made the problems of each her special concern and strove in all sorts of ingenious ways to inspire them and to pass on her knowledge and intense interest in every aspect of German culture as exemplified primarily in the German language and literature.

All who studied German under Miss Strong's expert leadership will remember the gay, humorous quips with which she enlivened otherwise tedious hours and spurred on to concentrated effort unwilling minds to master seemingly useless linguistic details. Nothing but the best would satisfy.

No request for help or encouragement ever went unheeded, since the welfare and forward progress of all connected with Illinois College were constantly uppermost in her mind. She gave freely and gladly of her affection, interest, and skill to help her students as well as their college. Her friendly presence will long be missed from the campus, and her lasting contribution to the continuance of high scholastic standards together with good teacher-student relationship will not soon pass away.

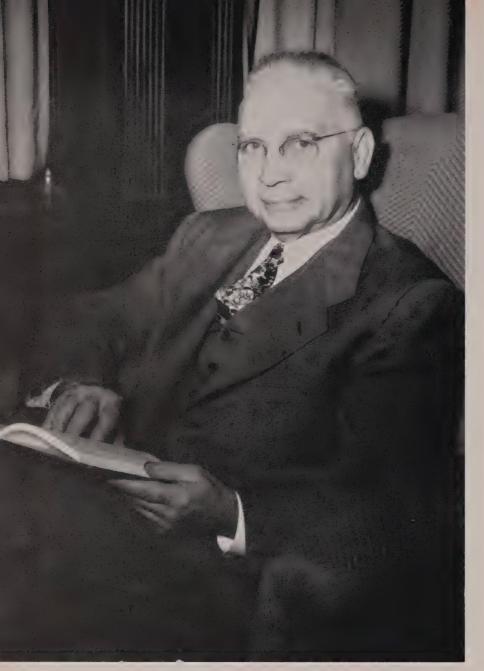

To the memory of Miss Mary Louis Strong the Class of 1952 affectionately dedicates this issue of the RIG VEDA.

This has been a splendid year for Illinois College. For the first time in nearly twenty-five years the students have enjoyed the happy experience of the addition of a new building, which has added much to the convenience and pleasures of our campus life. The new features which will be completed when another college year opens will permit a welcome enrichment of our activities and resources. It will bring close to realization the dream of many years.

As a record of this year this volume will bring to mind many memories of happy friendships and associations.

Gamma Delta began another successful year with the traditional formal initiation welcoming six new girls into membership. Program Chairman Charlotte Dietz introduced the theme for the literary program: "The Alphabet," consisting of the letters in Gamma Delta.

Our first accomplishment of the year was receiving honorable mention for our float in the Homecoming Parade in October. Our slogan, "Cooked Carthage," was carried out in our float, consisting of a huge turkey on a silver platter, carried by the G.D. cooks and preceded by two waitresses carrying the menu. November found us busy with our "Foot Bal I" in honor of the football team.

In December, Dorris Kolmer won the Sanders Oratorical Contest plaque with her oration, entitled, "And We Were Afraid." Our annual Christmas Cozy was held at the home of Connie Foreman, complete with a gift exchange, the glow of the tree lights, and Christmas carols.

The winter terms opened with the initiation of new members and found the girls working feverishly on the Open Meeting in January and the annual all-school party in February. The theme of the first event, "Arabian Nights," was carried out through the entire evening, complete with "rajah" favors. The G.D. party had "Country Fair" as its theme with a pie-eating contest, and a sack race.

The remainder of the year saw us busy with a taffy-pull date night, the rummage sale, the rapidly becoming traditional "week-end," the rush tea, and the always memorable love feast.

Sigma Phi Epsilon started the year with the candlelight initiation of the pledges. Homecoming found the Sig Phips cooking with the slogan, "IC Has Carthage" In A Stew". The Homecoming Cosy was a successful one, with many of last year's graduates returning.

Leaf Raking time found the Sig Phips once again selling coffee and doughnuts. The annual Christmas Cosy was also the Swan Song meeting for our two graduates.

With the help of the Alumni Committee, the Sig Phip couch was reupholstered and plans were made for further improvements:

The program for the first semester was "Pandora's Box," followed in the second semester by "The Sophisticate."

The Sig Phips welcomed the freshmen girls with the "Winter Wonderland" open meeting. The rest of the year was busy with the Easter breakfast, rush tea, and date nights. The "bonds of Sigma Phi Epsilon" once again widened to include alumni and friends at the annual Love Feast.

The year 1951-1952 proved to be truly a Chi Beta year. On top with honors were Joan Tate, editor of the Rambler, Mae Lundell, editor of the Rig Veda, and Pat Carlson, Social Chairman. With the loving cup, wen the second year in succession, on the mantel, the year was officially opened by the traditional candlelight initiation of pledges.

Homecoming found all Chi Betas in the usual starry-eyed rush of preparation and festivity. Among the most starry-eyed was the Chi Beta Homecoming Queen, Pat Carlson, and her Chi Beta attendents, Kay Johnson and Sue Hammitt. "Duz Does Everything" proved to be right as another addition to the mantel was made by winning the trophy for the best float in the Homecoming Parade.

As the last concession stand for the year was closed all sighed with relief and proceded to turn their individed attention to the literary aspect. The drama was the theme. The first semester was the gay musical comedy on the "Great White Way." Then turning to the Immortal Bard we found in the second semester "All the world is a stage." The open meeting let freshmen girls in on an "Opening Night" performance.

Through the year the XB wheel of events was kept rolling by the annual Card Party, All School Party, The Rush Tea, and innumerable date nights.

When our love feast ended it was with a touch of nostalgia that Chi Beta reviewed the year just passed. However we anxiously thought of the on-coming year, and the scores of events yet to take place.

The activities of Phi Alpha this year have been both varied and numerous. They range from the ridiculous to the sublime, from the scholastic to the political. But in all instances these activities have served to uphold the former record that Phi Alpha has achieved in these fields of endeavor. In some phases we have excelled, while in others we have only taken part; but the record of year's accomplishments bespeaks success.

The Lovers of Truth were well represented in almost every organization and activity on the campus. We were very well represented on the Student Forum; a large proportion of Hilltoppers' male actors are Phis; the male portion of the band is exculsively Phi; and many new Phis are also new APO men. Athletics and all the rest have had Phi representation. The fact that we indulged in intramural sports need only be mentioned, although we haven't done as well as in many another year.

Most of our time, money, and energy this past year has been spent on the redecoration of the hall with great aid coming from our large and conscientious pledge group. Only our lovely posts, left to support Sigma Pi, remind uus of pre-historic days. The hall is now a delightful rendezvous for the studious, weary, and lovelorn.

Phi Alpha has also maintained a well-balanced program of social events this year. Date nights, stag parties, and serenades were held throughout the year, the highlights being: the Homecoming meeting, the Christmas Formal, the Valentine's Dance, first held in the new hall, our open meeting, the Spring Formal, and one of our oldest institutions, the Love Feast.

During the course of the year we continued to present our traditional level of lively and well-diversified literary programs typifying our motto, "Onward and upward".

The the Phis of 1952 as those of 1845, tolerance, reverence, justice, and truth are not mere words, but a life creed—the pursuit of which has its reward in the record of the society and the lives of the men whose devotion she claims.

Thus Phi Alpha writes her history for the current year. It is not viewed in a boastful or depreciating manner, but merely as worthy of the record that has been made in the past, and as a fitting step to those that will be made in the future.

The fall term of 1951 marked the one-hundred-ninth successive year of activity for Sigma Pi. The year began with a rather dim outlook because of the society's low membership, but before long it became evident that this was going to be another typically successful Sig year.

The men of Sigma Pi went all out in the float contest, entering a gala cannibal spectacle, but despite their high hopes for another victory, the decision was rendered against them. Nor were they successful in intramural football, but when inter-society debate time rolled around, the Sigs likewise got rolling. Glen Henricks and Frank Chandler argued Sigma Phi to a victory over Phi Alpha, which gave them their third straight win and possession of the bronze debate trophy. A few weeks later, Paul Roley gained a victory in the Saunders Oratorical Contest for Sigma Pi to give the society a three and one record in oratory.

During the winter term the Sigs fielded another fine basketball team which edged Phi Alpha, 35-34, in a thriller in the semi-finals of the championship tournament. The next night they went on to down Gamma Nu handily and retain their basketball championship for the fifth straight year.

Sigma Pi likewise repeated as bowling champs during the winter term when the Sig "B" team eliminated Gamma Nu from contention to allow the Sig varsity to wrap up the crown in a thrilling last day finish.

Sigma Pi athletes have figured prominently in varsity athletics this year and several Sigs are serving on the Student Forum. A Sigma Pi member also is associate editor of the Rambler.

The society sponsored several successful date nights during the year, of course culminating with the ever-successful Sig week-end.

Gamma Nu's fifty-fifth year was, indeed, a full one, not only in society affairs, but in general campus activities. Two primary examples of Gamma Nu's close affiliation with the entire school and its principles may be seen in the gifts presented to the student body by this society. The first was a white marble bench placed in front of Tanner Library on which were inscribed the words, "The Truth Shall Keep Us Free." The second gift was a beautiful hand-made sign placed in front of the Student Union to distinguish that building from the other campus buildings.

Not only have the members of Gamma Nu been active within the society, but they have been active in other organizations as well, President of the Student Body, Vice-President, Forum members, President of the Senior Class, Secretary, Vice-President and Secretary of the Sophomore Class, President of the Junior Class, and both Presidents of APO.

The giant strides in the Gamma Nu Alumni Association were lengthened this year with plans being made to start on the renovation of the "Old Club." The basement room has been made into an attractive game room, and several other Hall improvements were made.

This year, with its inspiring Love Feast and beautiful formal at Doc O'Brien's mansion, along with the entire memorable weekend, has been a great success, and we are looking forward to an even more successful future.

Alpha Eta Pi's 1951-52 school year began in October, when the sixteen Freshman girls dressed in their finest clothes to fix a spaghetti dinner for the sophomores, who appeared in blue jeans. After the dinner, we provided spontaneous entertainment while, unknown to us, a demolition squad of sophomores, who had to leave early to "baby-sit", were "redecorating" Fayerweather.

Our next meeting was a formal initiantion, with candlelight, carnations, and green ribbons. The sophomores showed us how to conduct a meeting, and then we were on our own. Miss Seybold consented to act as our faculty adviser.

Our first project was Christmas caroling. Next, we had a date night, at which the girls gave their guests a sample of Alpha Eta Pi meeting. In the spring term, we are planning a picnic.

Our year in Alpha Eta Pi brought all the freshman women close together. We heard about Barb Nylund's engagement and Dee Burn's pinning. Alpha Eta Pi has prepared us for the upper class societies, which we are looking forward to joining.

APHA PHI OMEGA

Eta Sigma is the Illinois College chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, which is now the largest Greek letter fraternity in the world. This chapter has distinguished itself on the campus and in the community, as well as within the national organization, with a host of outstanding service project and social events.

Eta Sigma took complete charge of Freshman Week, their annual project of service to the freshmen and the college.

An outstanding float for the Homecoming Queen was designed and built to honor the Queen and enhance the festive spirit of Homecoming for the students and alumni.

Members have served as ushers at various campus events, and acted as guides for campus visitors.

Eta Sigma organized a blood donor drive to help meet the great demand for blood.

Stone walks for the Fayerweather and Colonial Inn residents have been laid, also, The chapter published a student directory.

Eta Sigma's big social event was the all-school "Sock Hop."

INTERSOCIETY BOARD

The Inter-Society Board serves as the governing body of the upperclass Women's Societies. The board also guides Alpha Eta Pi, the freshman Woman's Society. The board sponsors the annual Inter-Society Spring Formal and many other activities during the year.

The board consists of nine members—the president and two representatives from each of the upperclass societies. Dean McCracken serves as faculty adviser.

FORUM

The Illinois College student forum, composed of representatives from the student body along with two faculty advisors, controls and governs all activities financed by the general activity fund. The forum acts as a uniting link between the student body and the administration, and its success is dependent upon the cooperation it receives from both these groups. During the year this organization holds meetings in the Student Union for the purpose of expediating matters pertaining to campus problems.

MACMURRAY-ILLLINOIS COLLEGE BAND

The combined Illinois College and MacMurray College bands under the direction of Mr. Henry Busche had a very successful year. The fifty-piece band appeared a number of times on both campuses. During Spring term of '51, the band presented a Sunday afternoon concert in the College Grove. The activities of the year were concluded with the processional at the Commencement Exercises on June 10, 1951.

Beginning the '51-'52 school year, the band led the Homecoming Parade at several of the home football games. On December 3, the band played for the dedication of the new gym. During Winter Term '52, the band appeared at a number of home basketball games and presented the annual informal concert at the Jacksonville State Hospital
